Commercial Audio

Paying attention to shape the atmosphere is principle of a successful place.

When reliability and performance are critical - such as in paging and music distribution for restaurants, retail stores, offices, airports, hospitals, schools and industrial public address sound systems - shop Audiodesigner for your commercial speaker needs.

Hotel Audio

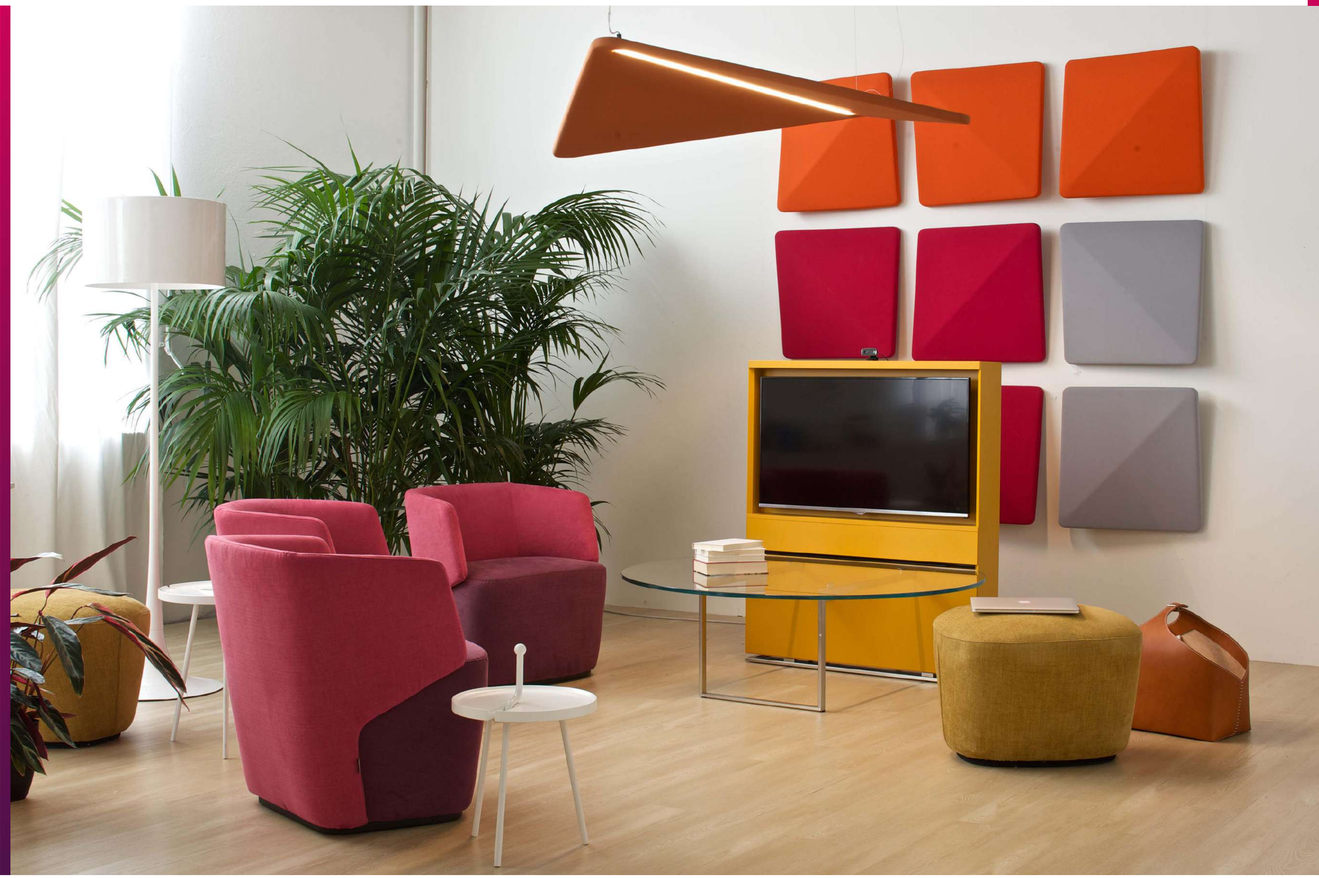

Regardless of their age, ethnicity and background, it is safe to assume that most people love music. It has always been like this. Time only changes the way we access music.

In hotels, it is best when sound equipment is heard but hardly seen. Our range of compact, architecture-friendly loudspeakers is the choice of hotels, selected for proving real pro-audio quality in a sleek package.

Sound Proofing

We specialize in making acoustic treatment that really works.

Our sound absorption products are built out of the best materials available. We pledge that all our products are built with the utmost attention to detail and quality. They are designed with our customers in mind. We offer a huge selection of colors to complement any decor.
